

FAQ

What is the focus of the WV Grant Resource Centers?

Through a full partnership between Marshall University and West Virginia University, the WV Grant Resource Centers will assist communities and other eligible applicants in developing competitive grant applications. The focus is on the pre-award process to help applicants identify funding opportunities, put together competitive proposals, and submit complete application packages.

Is there costs associated with requested services?

No, all services provided by the WV Grant Resource Centers is 100% free.

What grant technical assistance does the WV Grant Resource Centers offer?

The WV Grant Resource Centers will provided tailored technical assistance depending on the needs of the applicant. Some examples of technical assistance can be found on our intake form.

How are request for assistance considered and what criteria needs to be met?

When reviewing the applications, the co-directors will consider the following; The type of application, the type of assistance being requested, the application deadline, the impact of the project as it relates to economic development, infrastructure, and workforce investment and prior assistance.

How are request for assistance captured and when will I receive notice of assistance for the Centers?

Request for assistance can be submitted via our website by completing our application form. All requests will be reviewed in our weekly staff meeting. We ask that you give us 7-10 business days to respond to your request.

Who does the WV Grant Resource Center serve and how does my organization qualify?

The WV Grant Resource Centers will serve the entire state. Any entity in West Virginia with the aim of fulfilling economic satisfaction is eligible for technical assistance.

What types of grant proposals do you assist with?

The WV Grant Resource Centers assist with both government and foundation grants.

Can you guarantee that my organization will receive grant funding?

There is no guarantee you will receive grant funding by working with our team. However, you will be guaranteed a solid foundation for your initiative that can be built upon for future funding opportunities.

What should my organization have ready before requesting assistance?

While there is no set requirement, our team would like to see that you have a project concept as well as a funder. Further details can be found on our application form.